

2011 Nissan Leaf

Written by Nick Winters

Tuesday, 16 August 2011 09:04 - Last Updated Tuesday, 04 September 2018 13:39

We just finished installing some slick looking vehicle graphics on the new 2011 Nissan Leaf for Town Nissan. This car is Nissan's new 100% electric car. The Leaf is so quiet that it requires a backup beep to be heard!

The graphics that were applied are a temporary grade. The material was non-laminated, but should still last a solid 6 months if someone doesn't buy the car first. To learn more about this project check out the Leaf's profile in our portfolio. Click here >>